the myth about the #1 killer of women

12noon February 3, 2012

1900 block of Arch St (between 18th and 19th)

Go Red For Women® invites people from across our community to throw on your warmest red dress (or anything red!) and come to Center City in support of women's heart health!

After you walk, strut or stride across the finish line, join us in the Comcast Center food court for pictures, prizes and more.

It doesn't matter if you're a man or a woman, help support the Go Red For Women® movement and raise awareness of the number 1 killer of women.

Dash the myths!

Uncover the truth about the threat of heart disease to the women you love.
